

RevoPortioner

Consistently portioned petfood products

- Consistent weights and shapes
- Save on labor
- In-line or stand alone solution
- Simple to operate
- Low cost of ownership

Low pressure, high volume

The RevoPortioner makes perfectly portioned products at low pressure, while retaining the texture and structure of the raw material.

Each product always has the same shape, weight, size and quality, while the advanced air release system ensures a better product consistency, resulting in higher quality output and virtually no waste of raw materials.

Whether you want to produce low or high volumes, whichever raw materials you want to use, the RevoPortioner is the perfect portioning solution.

For more information on this low pressure portioning solution, contact your local sales person.

Advantages at a glance...

- Low pressure for texture and structure preservation
- Accurate product positioning on the belt
- Virtually no leakage of raw product and no smearing
- High capacities possible
- No water needed for product release, only air
- Optimal product variety with portioning drums (easy to exchange)
- Very low noise emission
- Simple to clean

FP201-EN-19-04

Marel is the leading global provider of advanced equipment and systems for the fish, meat and poultry industries.

ADVANCING FOOD PROCESSING

info.fp@marel.com | marel.com